Figure 3: Our DUAL score targets similar uncertain samples in the early epoch of 60 (highlighted in bold). When it comes to the end of training, selected samples are finally located in the most uncertain region when the whole training processes are considered.